

North Central London Integrated Schwartz Rounds

ALL health, social care and voluntary sector staff working in NCL are invited to attend these ONLINE Schwartz Rounds (clinical and non-clinical) which are funded by NCL Training Hub

Schwartz Rounds are a multidisciplinary forum designed for staff to come together once a month to discuss and reflect on the emotional and social challenges associated with working in health and social care. Rounds provide a confidential space to reflect on and share experiences. Attendees will receive a certificate of attendance with 1 hour CPD for each round attended. TESTIMONIALS

Well facilitated, meaningful powerful stories which made me consider how I care for patients, the language I use and how I also be considerate of colleagues I work with or care for.

It is a relief to hear colleagues' experiences and feel like you are not alone with your thoughts and emotions.

This was my first session and have to say I didn't quite know what to expect, it was the safest space I've been in and the stories told were personal and touching. The bravery of each speaker to openly talk about their stories and the reflections from everyone were emotive. We are all human and that resonated in everyone's stories and comments.

Quite triggering but exceptionally interesting. I find these sessions important because they permit me to reflect on situations I have experienced at work and see how other people dealt with them and/or how I would address them now.

It was quite emotional listening to colleagues stories. First time I have attended this and will definitely like to attend again. Time to stop, acknowledge emotions in a job that's so busy that most of the time i'm on autopilot!

A calm safe space, professionally run with a caring and human element to the roles we do.
